Thank You

Sometimes I think I have to remember all the good that is happening because of the good work being done by some of the bravest people I know of. They're in there, risking careers, their lives and everything that makes them secure in this world--- and none of them has to. They do it for the love of Human Beings and because of what is inside them that drives them.

I think it is the same thing that drives perfect strangers to risk their own lives to jump into the raging waters to save people being swept away in floods, or pull someone out of a burning car, or to intercede when there's violence against a victim.

There is so much good in Human Beings and I see it everyday, and in so many ways and I just have to stop and remember.

Everyone who has been giving me information about crimes and corruption on the rez or in other governments, and those who just share stories of people they know, whether it be joy or sorrow, anger or grief, Thank YOU!

And those of you who have made donations to Robin's House on the GoFundme Page and in person... Thank you!

You see there is only a little over a thousand dollars in that fund. That doesn't look like a lot, but I know the source of some of those funds and it's the world. And every dollar makes a difference. Every. Single. Dollar.

And there are those who donated Toys, or clothes or diapers or food or furniture and yes, even AIR MILES! You have no idea how much your donation mattered and made a difference and how timely it was. You have no idea! So Thank YOU!

Thank you for restoring my faith in my fellow man, daily. I could not do this for the past 20 years if not for you, and who and what you are; your strengths, your caring, your humanity and your willingness to share and to care.

Not Over

The process continues. We remain in it. We remain committed to it. It was outrageous that Marianne McMullen got to play investigator and judge and jury in ruling against Thomas Sullivan, terminating his employment with ACF after 28+ years. It is clear to all that she was retaliating because he is a whistleblower and his reports were illegally interfered with by her personally, and by those under her supervision who followed her orders and her lead to silence Thomas Sullivan.

Her agency along with her partners in other agencies worked tirelessly to bury the 13 Mandated Reports and prevent them from ever being investigated because the corruption pointed straight to the political string holders that make everything in politics and government happen.

The other thing they did to Thomas Sullivan was to smear his reputation in order to make themselves more immune from scrutiny. But scrutiny will continue. I fully expect the heat upon that agency and all the other agencies, will increase, rather than decrease because of these actions taken by McMullen and her minions.

The ever evolving scandal in Great Britain and their hundreds of thousands of children who were abused, raped, even murdered while their government agencies and affiliated law enforcement, charities and churches all conspired to silence their whistle blowers, did not go away with careers ruined or ended, reputations battered and besmirched. It grew and it grew, and it festered and finally when it did burst, because they always do burst, it's stinking up every agency, every police force, the media, the churches and the charities who all conspired to keep it silenced.

Families are living with those fallen from Grace, and their names spat at the feet of their children and grandchildren where once Pillars of political Power once played among the gods.

It burst because it was evil. Everyone in it was evil. Everyone knew that everyone who conspired with them was weak, selfish and could not be trusted, but had to be trusted, and sure enough... once the dominoes started to fall, and the trails back to every chamber of government began to rattle... the Truth was being told, and told and told... and it was being heard and seen, and believed.

A conspiracy of the nature we are dealing with here, Stateside, is not so different.

A cadre of creeps wallowing in their perversions relying on people as creepy or creepier than they are, to protect them and keep the truth from being told. The Truth when it is told will shake the foundations in the Houses of the Holy, and the snakes, when they escape, will do everything in their power to save themselves.

You can string together all the stories of kiddie porn busts; teachers, CIA, FBI, Military Top Brass, Churches, police chiefs, and think they are all separate, unconnected incidents.

Or you can start to see a pattern forming of who knew, when they knew and why in each of these cases, where we absolutely know these individuals did not operate alone, the investigations stopped with them and went no further.

Someone has to stop the investigations from going further. Someone has to stop the dominoes from falling. Someone has to have a lot of political clout, connections and a lot to lose, a lot to protect in order to be able to do that.

A theft ring does not operate alone. Drug rings and cartels do not operate alone. Human Traffickers do not operate alone. They all have protection from higher up. The more lucrative the operation, the higher up and the more powerful the connections.

There is no operation more lucrative than Human Trafficking and within that is a subset that is the most lucrative of all: The selling of children.

When you have someone in Marianne McMullen's position working to prevent reports from being investigated, you have a sense of how high up this goes and how deep into those dark chambers where the real power is wielded, this all goes.

Just like in Great Britain and their scandal, those here who do the work of silencing the reporters, of smearing the reputations of those who work to reveal the problems and get them remedied, then you can see that they reveal themselves by what they do to stop us from knowing what is going on and who is doing it.

You may think that Spirit Lake is just a single situation of very bad luck, bad government, but step back from that map – zoom out and look at the whole map and you will see a network is revealed because there is no reason for the ACF and every other agency to attack a man who is revealing only what happens on one reservation unless it is provable and it will lead to every other reservation and beyond to every agency that deals with children.

If it was only Spirit Lake, the problem would have been easier to resolve than to cover up, but they chose to cover it up. They chose at the top of every agency, including the DOJ, to cover it up. That tells you how widespread, and gives you an idea how deep this runs.

What's going on here, Stateside, will make what happened and what is being revealed in Great Britain look like a day at the beach. I guarantee it.

Zoom out from that map a little more and spin that globe. Now you can get an idea of how far it reaches. Not only into every community here, but everywhere where a child can be snatched, stolen, sold and resold.

Sparks

And in this snake pit, sometimes right in the heart of it, are people unsung, names unknown, who are working, risking their lives, putting their families at risk, to expose the evil that surrounds them. You may never know their names. They're not doing this for fame or fortune. They're doing it because in them is that spark of goodness, of decency and of compassion. They're doing it because they can't become a part of it.

They're doing it because they are like you. If it was you, and you were there, you too, would do everything you could, small or large, to bring the light and keep the snakes from taking one more child into that abyss.

Each of us does what we can. Each of us is a messenger, a warrior, a helper or a healer. In all of us, I'm talking to those reading this right now, is the spark of a messenger, a healer, a helper and a warrior. What each of us does, adds to what all the others are doing.

You may think your part is too small to count, that your contribution is too minor to make a difference, but every act of courage or kindness, compassion or generosity, adds to the light, and brings together more sparks and brighter lights.

We are all in this together. You and I, all of us.

We are all connected. And those who feed on the darkness, they fear us. They fear our even knowing who they are or what they are doing and what they have done. They fear us and it shows.

Every spark makes them wince. Every donation to the cause makes them just a little more uncomfortable and feel a little less secure because it means People Care.

They want you not to care. They want you to be so distracted and absorbed by your own struggles that you never even notice what they are doing and that you never notice those who have great courage in opposing them, revealing them and standing up to them.

It's overwhelming sometimes. I look at what's ahead and I cannot see an end. But I look at the past and I see so much has happened, so many more are involved. I am reenergized. I see sparks. I see Humanity. I see what is good and decent and I see that is what connects more of us than them. More and more of us. Every day. Every dollar, every toy, every air mile contribution just adds to that.

There are people in the belly of this beast that we owe everything to. Send your prayers or whatever in your life you believe in that connects us to one another on a greater plain, to those amazing, courageous people. Count yourself, on any small act of kindness and decency, among us.

We are all related.

You know where to find me.
