

Restless Again

By Cat West

May 19, 2025 (Supplemental Rant)

The Most Powerful Thing

The most powerful weapon or shield a person can possess in this world is knowledge. The powerful, the elite, the upper classes fear it. They try everything to make sure that people they consider beneath them never gain enough knowledge to seek information or to understand it when it's all around them. They control the masses by controlling both information and preventing the education of the masses.

That's why all media (98%) is controlled by 5 very powerful corporations. All. Media: TV, Movies, Books, School curriculum, radio, News, newspapers. If it's video, print, sound, entertainment... anything which would shape the information you would use to form an opinion on anything from what you buy, to who you vote for, is controlled by a handful of white owned corporate overlords who were allowed to monopolize every aspect that shapes your opinions. This is why racism has come back into vogue.

They want us fighting each other over stupid criteria: Skin Color, Religion, gender, sexuality, income, ... and if you think about it, it makes no sense at all. Skin Color isn't something you can convince someone to change about themselves. Religion is just God by a different name. Gender, again, different not superior/inferior. Sexuality. Seriously? Why would you care what 2 (or more) consenting adults do in the privacy of their lives? Do you not have a sex life of your own? Wouldn't that be enough?

What matters with other people and what they should be judged on is their integrity, honesty, courage, decency, compassion, sense of humor and that sort of thing. You can judge whether you want to be their friend or not. Whether you want to work for them or not. Because those are the things that will actually effect YOUR life in their presence.

None of the other crap should have any effect on your life.

But people feel weak and inferior so they are fed a stream of biases that they gobble up so they don't have to ponder, think about what the very powerful people who rule over their lives, keeping their wages low while raking in billion for themselves. It's always "Let's you & him fight" and "Those migrants, immigrants, refugees are the reason you're poor, have to live month to month, carry so much debt you can't buy a home..." yada yada yada... No, it's the corporate overlords who keep your pay low, and who lobby congress to not raise the minimum wage, while also allowing them to monopolize every daily product and service we need to function in our lives.

Refugees, immigrants, migrants have no power. They work at low-wage/hard labor, long hours work, and their paychecks have deductions on them for Social Security and taxes (yes, they pay taxes) for services they will never have access to. They keep the economy afloat and the food we take for granted, on our tables. Blaming them for low wages is wrong. Blame those who actually profit from underpaying labor. (Look up).

But, if people don't have a proper education, they are more defensive and reactive and racism, bigotry sings their siren song. It creates mistrust, violence, and is a perfect distraction from what the real issue is and prevents us from coming together to fix government, and make it work for us.

People even chant: "Go Woke Go Broke!" as if that makes sense. What? Stay asleep so you never hear the truth? "Woke" scared the crap out of the oligarchy. People were seeing what the real issues were and were marching together to stop the violence.

Racism and misogyny runs rampant in law enforcement but media has drowned us in the relentless propaganda that the police are the good guys. If they were the good guys, why would they need Qualified Immunity, essentially, a license to do harm, license to kill, without fear of consequences, criminal or financial. The police lie.

I know, "next time someone is attacking you, call a hippie"... No, I'll call police and hope I get one that has skills and integrity. It's a crapshoot. Yes, there are good cops out there... but they won't report the "bad apples" in their ranks, for fear of retribution. That makes the police a gang. Snitches are retaliated against, often with violence. Just like the gangs.

We need to change that. All of that. But now y'all chanting "go Woke Go Broke" so that gang behavior will only continue.

Going to be awhile. The Education Department is being dismantled by Felon 47's administration. By now, too many are already too stupid, too racist, to realize what comes next.

Keeping people down is easier if you control all the information streams and can keep all of us fighting each other as if WE are the enemy, rather than those who create and prosper from our despair.

Education is your only key to any future worth having. Educate yourself. Learn to research. Keep an open mind and discard old notions that are holding you back.

They're rewriting history to erase facts that don't favor only the White Race. They can do that because only the very powerful control all the media.

It has been pointed out that those who burn books have never been on the right side of any argument, always on the wrong side of history. Can you smell the smoke? Smoke? Woke?

Or Go to Sleep. Stay asleep. Your world is burning all around you. You don't want to wake up and see what's really happening. (Soft lullaby blaming migrants, non-whites, transgender people hums softly over your snoring)

When you wake up...

You know where to find me.

Cat

Restless Again, Blog
Created on 5/20/25 3:50:00 PM
Posted on: 5/20/25 3:50 PM

Page 4 of 4
